

MORE THAN AN IDEA

BY SAM ROTH

MORE THAN AN IDEA

By Samuel Roth

Published by

www.supersamroth.wordpress.com

Follow me on Twitter & Instagram @supersamroth

ISBN

Copyright © 2015 by Samuel Roth

All rights reserved. No part of this publication may be reproduced, stored in a retrieval system, or transmitted in any form or by any means - electronic, mechanical, photocopy, recording, or any other - except for brief quotations in reviews, without the prior written permission of the publisher.

Manufactured in the United States

For the child in everybody deciding what idea to be and Lauren

In a land not far from where you are now, there lives an idea.

The idea was a new idea, so it didn't have any shape or color yet.

"I'm not sure what I want to be," said the idea to itself. "But I know I want to be something!"

The idea decided it would explore and see if it could find what it wanted to be.

While exploring, the idea met another idea except this idea had shape and color!

The idea was a bright, bright yellow dog with six legs and was running in circles.

The running idea looked so happy running and playing, maybe the new idea would like doing it too.

The new idea tried and tried, but without six legs running was no fun. So the idea moved on.

After leaving the running idea, the new idea came upon another idea with shape and color.

This new idea was a short and round elephant in a ballerina outfit. The idea was dancing and singing.

The new idea thought dancing and singing looked like fun, so it decided to try.

But without an elephant trunk, the new idea had no music to dance to.

The new idea was sad that it still didn't know what it wanted to be.

So the new idea decided to be alone and think.

The new idea thought...

and thought...

and thought...

and thought...

until...

It had a shape!

The new idea looked and admired its new shape.

I have paws and legs and a small fluffy tail!

"I think I like this shape!"
said the thought out loud.
"Now I just need a color!"

